SMALL
THEATRE

Gigantic, mythical and majestic theatre that penetrates the threshold of wonder.

The fabled king returns whose head, severed in battle, entertained for 80 years.

Small World Theatre have discovered the broken pieces and will be reuniting the body with the floating head in coastal towns across Wales this summer.

Comic characters breathe life into the waking King. Choirs recruited in each location perform mystical song as audiences participate in this awesome and humorous retro-engineered ritual.

Bran the spectacular giant stands 3 storeys high on wharf, dock or riverside.

In this celebratory event, local communities are engaged in helping his limbs & body process to the quay.

Bran stands tall, proclaims his return, gets down close to his audience and eventually lies down, returning to the landscape.
